

ANNOUNCEMENT

Due to the current public health situation, the customer-service window at the Consulate of Spain in Washington, D.C. will remain open EXCLUSIVELY for Spanish citizens in case of emergency or urgency. This will stay in effect until another announcement is made and is being done in an effort to prevent the possible spread of coronavirus.

Our phone lines are overwhelmed by high call volume, so we insist that all questions be directed to us via e-mail.

cog.washington@maec.es

The emergency cell phone number for consular emergencies is only available to Spanish citizens and to non-Spanish citizens who call with issues relating to Spanish citizens in emergency situations.

+1 202.352.2299

For any questions related to the redirecting or canceling of returning flights to Spain, we ask that you check your airline's website and social media directly.

Services for visa applications will be restricted to emergency and high-need cases.

We apologize for any inconvenience that may be caused. Civic responsibility of all citizens is indispensable in taking measures to achieve social distancing and reduce the spreading of the virus.

We will reestablish normal consular activity as soon as possible.