

A HIDDEN MONUMENT. A STORY THAT DEFINES A DESTINY.

Could one of the most important monuments in America be outside the United States?

You are invited to an exclusive cocktail dinner in Houston designed for selected guests from Houston's political, business, and social circles, where we will explore one of the most fascinating and little-known stories behind the independence of the United States — and how it connects to identity, heritage, and the cultural ties that continue to shape transatlantic relationships.

Beyond the well-known stories, there is a powerful — and underappreciated — connection that ties Málaga (Spain - The Hometown of Picasso) directly to the birth of a nation. In this exclusive presentation, you will discover new perspectives, historical significance, strategic relevance, and a compelling story that links Málaga to the foundations of the United States.

Join us to uncover a destination whose story deserves greater recognition. This is an opportunity to share ideas, build connections, and take part in a conversation that bridges history, diplomacy, culture, and civic leadership.
